MEDICINAL.

THE PRISONER

Who escapes from jail is by no means free. He is under the ban of the law and punishment is written over against his name. Soon or late he will be caught again and bear added punishment for his short escape from his cell. Those who by the use of palliative powders and tablets escape for a time from the sufferings of dyspepsia are in the same condition as the escaped prisoner. Soon or late they will go back to the old condition and pay an added penalty for temporary release.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Its cures are lasting.

"I was about two years ago about two years ago I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Second, Esq., of 135 Madison Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep or follow my occupation (teaching). Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

EUROPEAN WAR CLOUD.

A special cablegram from London says: The probability of the maintenance of peace in Europe beyond the next few weeks is less than the probability of war. This grave conclusion is the deliberate judgment of statesmen and private observers alike who are acquainted with the latest developments in the crisis in the near East. There have been perennial war scares over the Balkan question for many years until diplomats, as well as the world at large, have come to regard the cry of wolf with indifference. It is impossible to ignore or belittle the alarming nature of the present situation.

The London Times says: "Every European chancellerie is aware that there is most imminent danger of a revolt in Macedonia on a totally different scale from the usual disturbances and an opening-up of questions that may lead to a struggle, the limits and issues of which a wise man will not pretend to forecast."

The preparations of the Macedonian revolutionary committee for a general rising in the spring are so extensive that it is impossible to keep them secret. The Sultan's atrocious misgovernment of Macedonia, despite all warnings and protests, has at last aroused both the Christian and Ottoman populations to revolt.

The Bulgarian government has given formal assurances that it will do everything in its power to avoid interference in the coming quarrel. It is quite beyond its power to prevent the Bulgarian people from crossing the frontier and making common cause with the Macedonian revolutionists. Serbia also professes its intention to stand aloof, but there also no government is strong enough to keep the country long out of the field after the fighting begins.

It would have been better, as the London Times observes, if Europe had taken the whole population under its protection, instead of only the Christians, inasmuch as the Ottomans are suffering equally from the atrocious misrule of the corrupt governing class.

It would be unfair, perhaps, to question the sincerity of the efforts which Russia and Austria, as the powers chiefly concerned, are now making to avert the crisis. It has been decided to press on the Sultan certain reforms, the principal being the appointment of a Christian Governor of Macedonia, with practically full powers. This concession, if it could be offered to Macedonia as an accomplished fact, even at this late date, might avert a revolution.

The concert of Europe, as has been many times demonstrated with appalling consequences, is a useless machine for any emergency requiring prompt action. Moreover, Abdul Hamid has successfully resisted its efforts more than once, when it was unanimously in earnest. It is almost hopeless to attempt to wring adequate concessions from him now in time to induce the Macedonians to abandon their revolutionary programme.

It is clear that this is fully understood by the powers proposing these reforms, but Russia and Austria have already begun massing troops on the frontier for a campaign which they consider inevitable early in the spring.

There is no doubt that the Czar will endeavor to divide the spoils of war with Austria alone. Russian troops are now massing along the Roumanian frontier. In all probability they will strike at once for Constantinople. Austria is pouring troops into Bosnia, ready to advance at a day's notice through the Sandjak of Novi-Bazar.

The Sultan himself is by no means idle. He is preparing to put down in his usual savage fashion any rebellion in his dominions. There is no doubt of the result. If, while struggling with the revolting provinces, Abdul Hamid is confronted by the troops of Russia and Austria, the Turk will at last be driven out of Europe. But what will be the effect of a Russian seizure of Constantinople? A few years ago it would have been the signal for a general European war.

This is less probable today, but to again quote the London Times, a wise man will not pretend to forecast the limits and issues of the question which would be opened up. Great Britain might now content herself with full sovereignty in Egypt and the Nile Valley. All the powers would strenuously oppose her further aggrandizement, but what about the demands Germany and France would certainly make for a share in the Turk's spoliation?

WIND WHISKED $100 AWAY.—The wife of a prominent government official had a trying and costly experience on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, yesterday. She recently received a money order for $100 and visited the postoffice to have it cashed. After the order had been cashed she secured a large official envelope in which to place her money, which was in several bills. The lady walked out the door and down the steps in front of the postoffice building, holding her dress skirt with one hand and

Uncle Sam says it's all right

Uncle Sam, in the person of one of his government officials, is always in charge of every department of our distillery. During the entire process of distillation, after the whiskey is stored in barrels in our warehouses, during the seven years it remains there, from the very grain we buy to the whiskey you get, Uncle Sam is constantly on the watch. We dare not take a gallon of our own whiskey from our own warehouse unless he says it's all right. her hat with the other. She had the envelope with the $100 in the hand with which she held the hat, and as soon as she stepped on the sidewalk a heavy gust of wind tore the envelope from her hand and whirled the bills out and up the street, out of view. Her pocketbook was blown out of her hand also, and her hat was torn almost off. This was done so quickly that she had no chance to save her property. The money had disappeared by the time search was made for it, and the lady was forced to borrow sufficient money to advertise for her lost bills and to pay her car fare home.

A NEW REMEDY.

The old friends of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be pleased to know that the manufacturers of that preparation have gotten out a new remedy called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and that it is meeting with much success in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, sick headache, impaired digestion and like disorders. These Tablets are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills, then they not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and correct any disorders of the stomach and liver. For sale by Richard Gibbons, druggist.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used, Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

The Easy Pill.

DeWitt's Little Easy Pills do not gripe nor weaken the system. They cure biliousness, jaundice, constipation and inactive livers, by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectively, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach, liver and bowels that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely. These famous little pills exert a decided tonic effect upon the organ involved, and if their use is continued for a few days there will be no return of the trouble. E. S. Leadbetter & Son.
